Press Release

Practice Planes from Old School Model Works

Our Practice Planes are just the ticket to give you flight time no matter where you are. Whether you're trying to memorize the latest contest sequence, or simply day-dreaming, our practice planes get you "in the air" in no-time.

Imagine sitting at your desk and working out the latest IMAC sequence - or even better - using these when training a new pilot, showing how to properly flair for a landing, or bank during a turn.

Sold in pairs, each are designed and cut from the same 3-layer, birch lite-ply used in our R/C kits, and each have a rear dowel that's easy to grip.

Assemble them in just a few minutes using your favorite glue. With laser-etched details, you can leave them as-is, or paint them to match the models in your air-force

Each have a 9" wingspan and faithfully represent the OSMW kit they are modeled from.

No, they don't actually fly but once assembled, grab the rear handle and easily takeoff, roll, loop, snap, touch-n-go, and more!

Retail Price: $17.95
